June 2023 Highlights

Pioneering EdTech: Strategic Collaboration with AvatarX

We're thrilled to herald our new alliance with AvatarX, a groundbreaking venture aiming to reshape AI-based interactive 3D avatar technology. Our combined efforts will lead to an avant-garde API that seamlessly fuses AvatarX's dynamic avatar technology with incumbent Learning Management Systems (LMS) and publishers. This integration is set to elevate online education, making it more engaging, intuitive, and ultimately more beneficial for learners across the board.

To truly appreciate the possibilities this collaboration brings, we invite you to watch our product demo here: <https://youtu.be/DoYwLL2SD4A>

The Game-Changing Avatar Technology by AvatarX

AvatarX's technology brings a host of advantages to the table:

- * Real-time instructor/guide interaction through immersive avatars.
- * Comprehensive and user-friendly self-assessment facilities.
- * Remote access to a rich, immersive learning setting.
- * High customization level for increased relatability.
- * Broad dissemination of quality education, including hard-to-reach areas where quality instruction is scarce.

The Urgency of AI Interactive Avatars

Our AI-driven interactive avatars represent more than a mere upgrade; they are a necessity in this rapidly evolving AI era. These digital counterparts will redefine online learning by providing personalized guidance, clarification, and assessment at the learner's discretion. They render learning an enjoyable and interactive endeavor while adjusting to individual learning capabilities, interests, culture, and style. Publishers and LMS slow to embrace this AI wave may risk irrelevance.

Investment Insights and Future Aspirations

Over the next two months, Titan Intech pledges US $2 million to further enhance AvatarX's innovative technology as a strategic partner. This investment grants us a foothold in a sector with little global competition. With strong backing from industry titans - Amazon and Nvidia, the potential of this technology is undeniably immense. Moreover, Titan Intech is primed to become AvatarX's exclusive strategic joint venture partner across Asia, Europe, Africa, Australia, and South America. We have already started showcasing this technology to potential clients, and the initial feedback has been extremely encouraging. In sum, we are confident in our direction and exhilarated to have you join us on this transformative voyage. We eagerly anticipate sharing future updates with you.
